Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133).
- Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☐ Responsive to communication(s) filed on ____.
- 2a) ☐ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☒ This action is non-final.

DETAILED ACTION

Priority

1. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1, 6, and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Strothmann (US 5,815,144).
4. Regarding claim 1, 6, and 7 Strothmann teaches an Icon-based reset for cartridge memory computer system (12) including: A memory cartridge (14) storing a second start program is attached or detached from the main body incorporating a main body memory storing a first start program (33) and memory mapping means for mapping the first and second start program in accordance with the connection or attachment of the cartridge (Col 8:30-45 & Col 6:28-35).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 3714

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148

USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

7. Claims 2, 3, 4, and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Strothmann (US 5,815,144).

8. Regarding claims 2, 3 and in addition to the above stated, Strothmann teaches the use of chip selects as well as cartridge selects (Col 6:50-54) or "enable signals" as so claimed and the use of dual cartridge connectors but is silent on the order in which cartridges are enabled or selected with respect to the body memory. Strothmann however does teach the selection and operation of the cartridges that would necessitate the selection or enabling of the cartridge. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to have selected/enabled the memory of the cartridge if it was attached and not to have selected/enabled the memory of the cartridge if it was not attached in order to allow the use of the cartridge when attached.

9. Regarding claims 4, 8 and in addition to the above stated, Strothmann teaches the presence output means for at least two cartridge and chip selects as the system taught by the inclusion of the at least two cartridge connectors (Col 6:24-35) and the cartridge connection means is described as pluggably connected via gold plated edge connectors for transmitting the select signals mentioned above: (Col 6:44-49).

Strothmann however, is silent on the rerouting of signals dependent on the connection state of the cartridge. As the described process is typically accomplished through reassigning existing signals instead of any physical switching operation and provides no distinct function or utility the described method of switching signals is deemed to be a matter of design choice.

10. Claims 5 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Strothmann (US 5,815,144). in view of Kikuchi et al (US 5,664,778).

11. In addition to the above-disclosed Strothmann is silent on the use of content dependent on identifiers. Kikuchi et al teaches the use of content dependent on identifiers in a network compatible game machine (Col 6:15-20).

12. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to have incorporated the identifiers of Kikuchi et al in the invention of Strothmann in order to allow for cartridges that are suited to various types of hardware configurations.

Conclusion

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Robert Mosser whose telephone number is (703)-305-4253. The examiner can normally be reached on 8:30-4:30 Monday-Thursday.
